

You can use the "Import Editor Data" under the "Tools" dropdown to import data from the editor and load it in to the grid. The first row will populate as the Header Row in the grid. Combine this ability and the power copy abilities to make code generation easier on you.